

"I Spy" Travel Adventure

We live in a big world, and there are so many places to visit! But sometimes traveling can be boring. It can take a loooong time to get places — whether you travel by car or airplane — and you might need something to do that makes the trip fun and exciting.

That's why Mack and I created this "I Spy" Travel Adventure activity! There are two different versions: one is for when you go on a road trip in a car, and the other is for when you travel by airplane. Each "I Spy" game has 30 different things to look for. Check them off as you "spy" them, and see how many you can get before you reach your final destination!
